

Are You Playing the Game or is the Game Playing You?

It's ridiculous to discount such an important concept and source of energy as 'Play'. So, I'm here to advocate the Power of Play in a most important venture...Your Game of Coaching." I invite you to turn the world upside down and return to the true value of play, and that is...

"play does much more...It may in fact be the highest expression of our humanity, both imitating and advancing the evolutionary process."
